Greetings,

My name is Pierce Devol; I am a technical writer and I would love the opportunity to interview with you and your team to discuss your documentation needs in detail. I come ready-to-go and am able to find and distill knowledge with minimal interaction or supervision. Over the last four years I've launched 4 knowledge bases, authored controlled documentation for the FDA, created a runbook for a CEPH data cluster, and countless other documents for processes big and small.

I recommend you my portfolio website, generated through a static site generator and self hosted with my own domain with a clean and simple style.

This website is designed using best docs-as-code practices. It is edited in a simple text editor then pushed to a shared git repository. At my website, you will find my resume and portfolio.

I would also like to emphasize that I have been working directly with IT departments doing tickets and learning from them for 6 years. My knowledge is fresh and up-to-date. This breadth of experience allows me to ask questions that the experts may not have thought about; and reduces the potential for lost knowledge. I love to meet you and your team and see if this would be a good match.

Hope to hear from you,

Pierce Devol
